r will be learned with regret that Major-General Gordon, Captain Superintendent of Police, who has been ill for some time, has been ordered home by his medical adviser, and that he leaves for England by the French mail steamer Oceanien on 8th February. The duties of Captain Supering tendent of Police will in the meantime be undertaken by Captain Lethbridge, the new Superintendent of Victoria Gaol, .

Last night Mr Freear repeated his performance in the Theatre Royal to an audience which included His Excellency Sir William Robinson and Lady Robinson. Mr Freenr's versatility of mimicry and humorous impersonation, more particularly in the first portion of the programme, were most heartily appreciated, and the heartiness of the laughter which resounded from all parts of the house was the best proof this clever artiste could have had that his efforts were meeting with genuine success. Mr Freesr

At the commencement, when and may be expected to arrive he e on dogs which owners did not want, or sould not afford to keep, were being destroyed, in every case where there was a possibility of selection, bitches were destroyed in preference to dogs so as to keep down the numbers. This, and the destruction of all pups, was found necessary, as the Chinese never drown or otherwise kill their pups, but allow them to run wild, and, if in the future some step is not taken, such as registration, The O. & O. s. a. As the German mail steamer entered Woosung the other day, says the Shanghai Mercury, the steamer was boarded by Detective inspector Keeling and some vamen runners from the Mixed Court who arrested a young Chinese student who had been sent back from Germany on account of misbehaviour in that country. He was one of the band of youths sent to Germany and France last year by Chang Chib-tung to learn foundry and factory work, and is said to have been a particularly bright and clever youth, earning at the time of his misconduct about eighty marks a month. But he was The Glen Line steamship Glenar m, from carsed with an angovernable temper which London for this port, left Singapore frequently broke out in his intercourse with on Jan. 30, and may be expected his fellow-workmen in the foundry where he was learning his trade. He is, said to have been sent back to this country under arrest for having fired a revolver at a constable who tried to stop-him while fighting with a German workman. The question now is what kind of punishment will be awarded the youth for his misconduct in Germany? We should say, under existing circumstances, hardly any; most likely he will be sent in to Wuchang to be questioned by Chang Chili tong, and olever workmen with European experience being scarce, he will be ze-employed at the foundry and iron works at Hanyang ; that is our opinion, but

THE CITY OF PEKING OVERDUE Information of a disquieting nature was 'received in Hongkong this morning, with regard to the Pacific Mail steamer City of Peking, which should have arrived at San Francisco on 24th January. The steamer left this port on New Year's Day via Yokohama, and as she had not arrived when the telegram was despatched to the Hongkong and Shenghai Bank by its agent in San Francisco she is now eight days overdue. No intimation has yet been received by the local agent of the Pacific Mail Company, Mr J. S. Van Buren, but on enquiry we find that no apprehension is entertained over her safety. It is probable that her crank shaft has broken, or that she has met with some such accident which would account for her detention; and this belief obtains weight from the fact that on previous occasion the City of Peking was long overdue through the breaking of her shaft. If any such accident has occurred, it is hoped the same Company's steamer which left Hongkong ten days after the City of Peking, will fall latter vessel. Indeed, as these steamers have instructions not to go north of lat. 40°, it is considered most likely that the China, which is a faster vessel, will overtake her and stand by her or take her

There was another sharp conflict between the police and the robbers, and Sergeant Molver had to be a little more forcible than polite with one desperate ruffian who gave him a good deal of trouble.

It would appear that the whole of the men were originally in one gang which had plotted a plundering raid upon Mr. Carvalho's house, but that the three who were first captured had broken faith with their fellow-robbers and intended to steal a march upon them; and that the second division were answere that an attempt had been police were to successful in scouring their on the first occasion, it is unlikely that

The Chairman said - Gentlemen,-In asking you to sdopt the report and he will see, the new building which completes school received a grant of $5000, counts I regret that we cannot congratulate ourselves on any appreciable improvement in the state of depression and depreciation of property referred to by the Chairman at our last annual meeting. Under the circumstances you will doubtless agree with me that the results now laid before you are playground underneath for the wet season; not discouraging, but on the contrary may lead us with some confidence to expec: better things when the commercial and financial atmosphere clears as it cannot fail to do, though possibly, but slowly. On comparing the balance sheet for 1892 with that of 1891 you will notice a large increase in Accounts Payable on the one side and a corresponding increase in the aggregate our investments on the other. The increase in the former prises from advances employed in further Investments on Mortgages which yield a satisfactory margin of profit. Turning to the Interest Account a falling off of $36,000 appears as against the collections in 1891, whilst one Rentals on the other hand show a satisactory growth of $12,000. The decrease in interest is mainly due to the fact tha on completing the development of properties throughout the year we cease debiting the same with interest, for so soon as they are productive the rentals go to swell the Rent Account as already mentioned. The apparent loss of interest of course at first exceeds the increase of rent, as property though complete cannot all be let in a day. and we may look for continued and permanent improvement in that source of revenue. You may in these times naturally ask if we are satisfied that our mortgages are on safe basis, and I would say that during the or margine on the mortgages existing twelve months ago, thereby placing them on what we consider a safer basis. The directors are satisfied that, were my properties thrown on our hends, the low rentals even now derived from them would in every case be sufficient to cover full interest on our advances after meeting all disbursements. I can only say that it is much to be regretted, and if I can do anything to accelerate the time between the examination and the distribution of prizes I shall be most happy to do so, because I can quits understand that the prizes lose their popularity by the delay which the Handmaster has very properly complained of. The remarkable result which has been obtained in this school, as stated in the report-Dr Eitol gave me a paper the surject which is merely a repetition of what has been just read by Headmuster-which is to the effect that over 97 per cent, of the bys examined have passed, and that the fresults of the school for last year, 1892, as compared with 1891 are eminently gratifying, because there were fewer boys last year-67 against 72 in 1892-and the roughts obtained were much higher. I think that the masters will agree with mo when I say that the number of higher subjects which are taken up has reached a safe limit. Three or four special subjects are quite enough. I had pecasion to remark Ludge since October 1889 were transferred the other day that it was much better to to this building, and we at once found the know three or four special subjects por-
